Boot and Shoe Manufactory.
THE subscriber still continues to manufacture BOOTS & SHOES of every description at his old stand on East Water street, opposite Ludington & Co's store. All those wishing boots and shoes made in a most genteel and workman-like manner, equal in quality and durability to any manufactured west of N. York, would do well to give him a call. A good supply of boots and shoes of my own manufacture constantly on hand.
☞ Gentlemen's dress boots. Ladies' gaiters and half gaiters, Morocco and Kid work, made by superior workmen, will be furnished with despatch for ready pay. ap18 A. ELY.

MRS. CAMPBELL
WOULD respectfully inform the Ladies of Milwaukie and vicinity, that she has received per express from New York, a new and general assortment of

WEST WARD FOREVER!

R. HOUGHTON takes this method to inform the customers of the late firm of R. H. & Co., and the public generally, that the business in future will be conducted by him at the old stand, where he will receive, in the course of the present week, a general assortment of Fancy and Staple
DRY GOODS,
Groceries, Crockery and Glassware, Hardware, Nails, Oils, Paints, &c.—All of which will be offered for sale at a small advance from cost, for cash or most kinds of country produce.
Believing the cash or ready pay system to be the cheapest and eventually the most profitable for the buyer as well as the seller, that principle will be adopted and strictly adhered to.—He does not wish to 'puff' and boast of his long residence and extensive acquaintance in New York—great facilities and extraordinary abilities in purchasing goods, &c.: or even say he will sell cheaper than any body else—but he does wish to say, his motto being "live and let live," and on the principle that a "nimble sixpence is better than a slow shilling," that he will sell as cheap as the cheapest," the truth of which, he pledges himself to demonstrate to the entire satisfaction of every one who may favor him with a call. may22

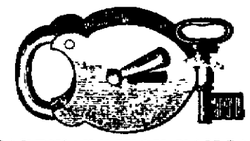
Milwaukie Iron Store.



HARDWARE IRON, NAILS &c.
NAZRO & KING are now receiving their Spring stock of heavy and shelf hardware, to which they will constantly be making additions. We are now able to offer a complete assortment of Goods in our line, to which we would call the attention of all who may wish to purchase for cash. Our stock having been laid in before the advancement, we feel confident that we can make such prices as will insure a ready sale. Having made arrangements with Eastern Hardware Manufacturers from whom we obtain our supplies, we can make it an object for country merchants to buy of us, and thus save them the disadvantage of buying an over stock. We shall endeavor to keep on hand a full stock of Tools and Farming Utensils, and will furnish at short notice, any amount of building material that may be wanted. Having adopted the system of serving all at one price, those who may favor us with orders, can rely on our doing as well by them as if they were here themselves.

THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY of New-York. No. 44 Wall street.—This Company, since its organization on the 1st February, 1843, (two years) has issued 1500 policies. The total amount received for premiums and interest on investments, $124,087; yielding a nett capital of $97,273, after paying all its losses and expenses. This accumulated capital is rapidly increasing by the 2d and 3d years' premiums now becoming due, and by a vastly extended and growing business. The eminent success and prosperity of this institution has placed it on a strong position. Its capital and resources are now so ample as to give confidence in its ability, and insure safety to its members.
The company is organized upon the most improved principles of Mutual Life Insurance, and offers very great advantages to whole Life Policies, or insurances for short periods, if continued till death; without incurring any personal responsibilities. At the expiration of every five years from the date of the first policy, (which will make the first division of profits to be on the 1st of February, 1848) the whole of the profits will be divided among the insured in proportion to the amount of premiums paid by them, and will remain at their credit as an accumulating fund, payable at the decease of the insured
The progress of this institution thus far gives strong grounds for anticipating large dividends to its members at the stated periods of settlement, and equal to those of the most cash grants of and successful Mutual Companies in Great Britain, who even in its well known immense profits have been made.
The importance and utility of Life Insurance is becoming a matter of deep interest with all classes of the community and is now occupying much of public attention, and beginning to make favorable impressions as to the great benefits to be derived from it; as the published monthly statement of facts as to need by the company conclusively show.
Merchants and trade, professional, civil, military and naval; clergymen, professors and men generally; clerks, and persons in every situation in society, may secure to their families in the event of death, a comfortable support and independence, by making, while in health, a small annual investment for an insurance on their lives.
Pamphlets, explaining the principles, and showing the advantages of Life Insurance, with the rates of premiums and forms of application, may be obtained at the office of the company, No. 44 Wall street, or any of its Agents.

The Lexington Outrage.

EXCITEMENT AT LEXINGTON—REMOVAL OF C. M. CLAY'S PRESS TO CINCINNATI.—We have already given an account of the doings at Lexington up to the close of the popular meeting on Friday afternoon. The preamble and resolutions adopted by the meeting, were published on Saturday.—The resolution, it will be recollected, called a mass meeting of the citizens of Lexington and Fayette to assemble on Monday at 11 o'clock, A. M. On the same day, without having seen the publication made by the meeting, C. M. Clay put out a second handbill, incomparably more moderate in its tone than his first. In it, he explained his own plan of emancipation which seemed calculated to give no offence to any portion of the community, and he closed as follows:

"It may be that my paper has not been conducted in the most pacific manner, but is there not cause for mutual reproach between myself and the public in which I am placed? And those who now most denounce me, should remember that my paper was denounced even in advance, in the full avowal of all the incendiary purposes which my enemies now affect to impute to me. I am willing to take warning from friends or enemies for the future conduct of my paper; and while I am ready to restrict myself in the latitude of discussion, I never will voluntarily abandon a right or yield a principle."

On Sunday, Mr. Clay put forth a third handbill, which was in part a response to the publication of the meeting. He therein stated that he had had the typoid fever for thirty-three days; that his brain, during that time, had been almost incessantly affected; and that he was then unable either to hold a pen or pull a trigger. In that document, he reiterated most strongly his previous protestations, that the language of his newspaper had been grossly misrepresented. On Sunday evening, Mr. Clay, who, it was understood, was too ill to sit up in his bed, and, in fact, so ill that even his ultimate recovery was considered doubtful, had a large number of loaded muskets and other deadly weapons, with which he had intended to defend his office, removed from that building. On Sunday night, the alarm throughout Lexington was very considerable on account of the fact that the knowledge of what was transpiring was said to have reached a portion of the population that should have been kept in ignorance of it. Many fancied that they saw symptoms of insubordination; and patrols were kept up throughout the city during the night. On Monday morning, C. M. Clay put out a fourth handbill addressed to the mass meeting which was to assemble at 11 o'clock. We subjoin that document, which, it will be seen, was of the most conciliatory character.

LEXINGTON, Aug. 18, 1845.

The chairman of the public meeting assembled to-day will please lay before it the following communication:

FELLOW CITIZENS OF LEXINGTON AND COUNTY OF FAYETTE: Being unable, from the state of my health, to be present at your meeting, and even unable to hold a pen, having been sick thirty-five days with the typhoid fever, I dictate to an amanuensis a few lines for your just consideration. Having been the unwilling cause, in part, of the present excitement in my county, and feeling, as I do, respect for the safety and happiness of others as well as my own, I voluntarily come forward and do all I conscientiously can do for your quiet and satisfaction. I treated the communication from the private caucus with burning contempt, arising not only from their assuming over me a power which would make me a slave, but from a sense of the deep personal indignity with which their unheard of assumptions were attempted to be carried into execution. But to you—a far differently organized body, and a constitutional assemblage of citizens—I feel that it is just and proper that I should answer at your bar, and as I am not in a state of health to carry on an argument or vindicate properly my own rights, I shall voluntarily, before any action is taken on your part, make such explanation as I deem just and proper.

During my sickness my paper has been conducted by some friends. The leading article in the last number, which I am told is the great cause of the public disquietude, I have never read, because at the time it was put to press I could not have undergone the fatigue of reading such a paper thro'. Although it was read over to me at the time, yet I am fully persuaded now, that, had I have been in health, it would not have been admitted into my columns. But I left the less hesitancy in admitting it, because it had been my avowed policy heretofore to admit free discussion upon the subject of slavery, by slaveholders themselves, and the author of this article is largely interested in that kind of property. You have seen before this time that the course of policy which I commend, myself, to the State is widely different, in many essential points, to this author's views. The article written by myself and published in the same paper, was written a few days after the leader was in type, and which has also been the cause of so much dissatisfaction, the justice of which, to some extent, I am willing to acknowledge. I assure you, upon the honor of a man, it was never intended to mean, or to bear the construction which my enemies have given it. I was pursuing the reflections of my own mind, without thinking of the misconstruction that could be put upon my language.

Had I been in the vigor of health, I should have avoided the objectionable expressions, for, by sharply guarding against the cavils of my opponents, I would best guard, at the same time, against anything which could be considered of a incendiary character. I cannot say that the paper, from the beginning, has been conducted in the manner I could have wished. The cause of this it is not now necessary for me to mention. Satisfied, however, from past experience that the free discussion of the subject of slavery is liable to many objections which I did not anticipate, and which I had allowed in an excess of liberality, arising, no doubt, from the fact that I had been denied the columns of the other presses of the country myself, I propose, in future, very materially to restrict the latitude of discussion. I shall admit into my paper no article upon this subject, for which I am not willing to be held responsible. This, you perceive, will very much narrow the ground; for my plan of emancipation, which I put forth a few days ago, is of the most gradual character.

My other views, put forth there also, are such as, I learn, are not at all offensive to the great mass of our people. By this course I expect to achieve two objects to enable me to carry on the advocacy of those principles and measures which I deem of vital importance to our State, without molestation, and without subjecting the people to the apprehensions and excitements which are now unhappily upon us. You may properly ask, perhaps, why was not this done before? I reply that I did not foresee any such consequences as have resulted from a different course. The denunciations of the public press on both sides, I conceived, and am still of the same opinion, arose from the desire to make both parties political capital. And you will see also, when the excitement is worn off, that there have been many selfish purposes sought to be accomplished at the expense of your peace and mine, by men who are professing to be actuated by nothing but patriotic motives.

Having said thus much upon the conduct of my paper, I must say also that my constitutional rights I shall never abandon.—I feel as deeply interested in this community as any other man in it. No man is, or has a connection, more deeply interested in the prosperity of this State than myself. You ought not, you cannot, if you are as just to me as you are to yourselves, ask me to do that which you would not do. I know not, in reality, what may be the public feeling. I am told it is very much inflamed; I, therefore, directed my publisher, after the publication of to-morrow's paper, to exclude all matter upon the subject of slavery, until, if my health is restored, I shall be able myself to take the helm.

My office and dwelling are undefended, except by the laws of my country—to the sacred inviolability of which I confide myself and property; and of those laws you are the sole guardians. You have the power to do as you please. You will so act, however, I trust, that this day shall not be one accursed to our county and State. Your ob't serv't,

C. M. CLAY.

☞ Upon the appearance of this handbill, very many thought, that, in consideration of Mr Clay's pledges and his illness, the people would not molest either him or his premises, but there were some who seemed actively engaged in inticing the rest to violence. During the whole of Monday morning, there were more people than in Lexington were gathered in small or large groups in all the streets of the city. About a quarter before 11 o'clock, the rush for the court-house commenced, and in five minutes the building was full. Several thousand persons were present. A gentleman, whose name we have forgotten, was appointed president, and Benj. Graz w s appointed vice president. The president exhorted the meeting to be orderly, remarking that the doings of the people of Lexington and Fayette on that occasion would be published and discussed throughout the whole Union. An address to the crowd, in the name of a committee previously appointed for that purpose, was then read by the Hon. T. F. Marshall, who was the writer of it. The address was long, eloquent vehement, and exceedingly violent against C. M. Clay, and it closed with a series of resolutions, the substance of which was, that the people of Lexington and Fayette would not permit an abolition paper to be published in their midst, that a committee of sixty, appointed by the president, should proceed to the office of the True American and, if they met with no resistance, put up the presses and all other printing material, carefully, in boxes, and and place them at the railroad depot, to be transported to Cincinnati subject to the order of C. M. Clay; that, in case of resistance to the committee, they should enter the office by force and accomplish their purposes by force; and, that this committee should report progress to an adjourned meeting to be held in the court-house yard, at two o'clock in the afternoon. The address and resolutions were adopted by acclamation, not a single dissenting voice being heard in the whole of the vast crowd.

The president read the names of the committee of sixty, who were taken indiscriminately from the two political parties, and forthwith the crowd adjourned to C M. Clay's office, filling up the whole street for a considerable distance. The doors and window-blinds of the office were all closed. In a few minutes, the committee of sixty arrived, and on their approaching the door, a pledge was proffered to them in the name and behalf of C. M. Clay that if they would not molest his property, his paper should be immediately discontinued. A member of the committee replied that the proposition came to l t , and, that they must do the work for which they were appointed. The keys, according to the orders of C. M. Clay, were then given up to them, and the members of the committee, as their names were successively called by the chairman, entered the office, sent for some of the master printers of the city, and had every thing boxed up in the most workmanlike manner, and the boxes were taken to Frankfort yesterday morning to be placed on the first Cincinnati boat.

C. M. CLAY.

By the following, from the Cincinnati Enquirer, it would seem that the affair has ended for the present:

The Lexington Affair.—We were yesterday informed by a gentleman who left Lexington on Thursday morning, that the call for a county meeting at the court house was responded to by the attendance of from 2500 to 3000 persons. The meeting was organized by the appointment of a chairman and secretary. A committee of sixty was subsequently appointed to wait upon Mr. C. M. Clay, and report to him the sentiments of the assembled multitude. They did so, and Mr Clay delivered up his office into their hands. The materials were then very quietly boxed up, shipped by the railroad to Frankfort, and from thence to this city, to the order of Mr. Clay. Thus was quelled the excitement; which bid fair at one time, to end in bloodshed.

☞ Iowa, it is said, has again refused to be a State by several hundreds majority.

IMPORTANT FROM MEXICO.

Arrival of the Water Witch—No Declaration of War—10 000 Mexican troops on their March to Texas.

We hasten to lay before the readers of the Tropic the latest news from Mexico. The Water Witch, Capt. Trennis, left Vera Cruz on the 5th inst., and arrived here between 5 and 6 o'clock this morning. It seems that, after all the gasconading despatches of the Mexican Minister, a Declaration of War is now very doubtful.

Our prompt and intelligent correspondent tells the whole story.

VERA CRUZ 4th Aug. 1845.

Dear Sirs:—I last had this pleasure, per Relampago, which left here on the 23d ult. No arrivals have since taken place from your port.

The election of a new President commenced on the 1st inst., for which there are four candidates—say, Gen. Herrera, President ad interim; Gen. Almonte, ex-Mexican Minister at Washington; Gomez Farias, and one other whose name has escaped my memory. The Presidency, however, seems to lay between the two former, one of whom it is supposed will be the successful candidate.

Almonte has offered his services to Government in the approaching campaign against Texas, but I rather think it is more a "ruse de guerre" to help him to the Presidency, than any great desire he has got to have a brush with the Texans—or as I ought rather to say now, the United States.

H. B. M brig-of-war Persian, arrived here on the 27th ult. in seven days from Galveston, bringing the news of the Annexation of Texas being confirmed by the President, Jones—and also that a body of U. S. troops, say about 4,000 men were expected at Galveston in the course of a few days.

It appears our Government is in no hurry to declare war against the United States, or at any rate, it seems to be the general opinion that she will merely attempt to re-conquer Texas without making any declaration of war. Of course the news by the Persian caused a great excitement throughout the country. The Ministry has presented an act to the two Chambers for their deliberation.

1st. To declare war against the U. States.

2d. Authorizing them to raise a foreign or national loan to the amount of fifteen millions of dollars, which they consider to be requisite to carry on a war and re-conquer Texas.

The proposals are now under discussion in the Chambers, and if they get the "L'argent" there is no doubt they will make the attempt to again get possession, though it is doubtful whether they declare war against the United States or not.

Of course you have heard ere this, of the revolution at Tobasco, in favor Federalism, which has induced government to declare said port closed to foreign as well as [illegible] shipping, but is rather puzzled to find out how they will keep out the former, as they have not got a single steamer that they can get ready in less than 18 or 20 days, all the engineers being still as I may say, loafing on shore and waiting for their pay, of which, for some months past, they have received but a mere trifle.

The Tariff question is still under discussion, or rather has been referred to a Committee, but if they procrastinate as they generally do, God knows when we shall get sight of the long expected document—and in the meantime the country will lose a great deal as merchants do not like to ship with so much uncertainty.

I have nothing farther of interest to inform you of at present, and beg to subscribe myself, gentlemen, very respectfully, yours.

AUG 5.—The Water Witch not sailing yesterday, I open to say that we have no news from the American Squadron, but it is thought here that it will soon appear.—It is said that the troops now on the road to Texas, amount to 10,000 men.

FURTHER FROM MEXICO.—The New Orleans papers contain some further particulars received by the Water Witch.—A rumor prevailed that the fifteen million loan had been authorized by the Mexican Congress. It would be more difficult to raise the money. We copy the following from the Picayune of the 15th.

"The citizens of the capital heard on the 26th ult. by way of Vera Cruz, that 3000 infantry, 600 cavalry, and some pieces of artillery from the army of the U. States were about to rendezvous on the west bank of the Rio Bravo, together with 1000 Texans. They know not whether to credit this news or not, but awaited in all confidence intelligence that the Mexican army of observation has thoroughly flogged this force, if it has really made so audacious a move.

El Siglo Diezy Nueve, which has usually most ardently sustain the administration, in the present instance opposes the idea of any declaration of war.

It holds that war has already been virtually declared from the moment that the United States passed the measure of annexation; that the subsequent action of Texas has nothing to do with the question as between Mexico and us; that the two countries are now at war—an offensive war on the part of the American Union, and strictly defensive on the part of Mexico.

It contends that Mexico should observe her treaty stipulations towards the our merchants, as those of a hostile nation, and that there is no occassion to proclaim a war, which can be done at any moment or not at all, being a mere matter of form.—Many Mexicans accede to this reasoning, and there are letters in town which would induce the belief that there will be no formal declaration of war, but that the most strenuous exertion in the power of Mexico will be employed to reconquer Texas.

El Siglo is much occupied with a defence of the course pursued by the Administration, in offering to acknowledge the independence of Texas, in order to prevent her annexation to the United States. This is evidently, in the eyes of the populace, the vulnerable point in the policy of the government.

Capt. Trennis reports that when he left Vera Cruz there were no American vessels in port. On his second day out (the 7th inst.) he saw an American vessel of war bearing toward Vera Cruz, but from the distance he could not make her out.—There were lying at Sacrificios, one English, one Spanish and one French vessel of war, when the Water Witch sailed, and the American squadron was momentarily expected."

The N. Orleans Bee, of the same date says:—

"As the main fact is certain, that Mexico has learned the arrival of American troops on the soil of Texas, and as this was the principal condition antecedent to a declaration of war, there can be no doubt that ere this Mexico has been officially declared in a state of hostility towards the United States.

HEADS OFF.—In the work of Mr. Rush, the following anecdote is told. It shows how irksome Persian dignitaries must find the civilization of Western Europe:

Two servants of the Persian Ambassador having offended him lately in London, he applied to the British Government for permission to cut off their heads. On learning that it could not be granted, he gravely remonstrated! In the sequel, he was ill able to comprehend how the laws of England could deny his request. Finding, however, that his hands were tied up, he told his servants, "it was all one: they must consider their heads as being off; for off they would come when he got them back to Persia."

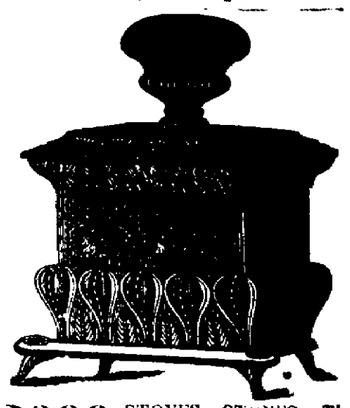
A GREAT CHANCE

FOR HOTEL KEEPERS.

THE undersigned, who has kept the Milwaukie House for the last three years, is now anxious to retire from the business, as his health will not permit that attention which the avocation requires; he will dispose of his furniture and all his fixtures in the house at a reduced rate for cash. The house is doing the very best of business, and much more could be done were it in the hands of one whose health would permit more energy. If the above property is not disposed of by the first of November, it will be sold at public auction, in parcels to suit purchasers, of which due notice will be given, with a description of furniture, &c. &c. &c. All those who are in want of all kinds of furniture, feather beds, mattrasses, horses, &c. would do well to avail themselves of this sale.

The proprietor would be pleased to have all his old customers and friends call on him—He will use his exertions to please them, and make them at home while he remains in the house. C. WALL, Proprietor.

N B. The situation of the Milwaukie House is on a bluff in the East Ward, where it has a commanding view of the lake, river, city and country, and is capable of accommodating one hundred persons. There is also attached to the house a large and extensive barn. The house can be leased for a term of years at a fair price. Milwaukie, W. T. Aug. 26 1845. 2m



2000 STOVES—STOVES.—The subscriber is now receiving the largest and best assortment of Cooking, Plate and Parlor Stoves ever brought to the Western market, which he will sell low for CASH. He would respectfully invite those who may wish to purchase, to give him a call before purchasing elsewhere, as he flatters himself that he can suit such as may call, both in quantity and price. His stoves consist in part of the following, viz.

1500 Premium Cooking Stoves, consisting of A bany, Troy, Buffalo & Erie castings.
100 Arwoods Patent, Hot Air, Empire Cooking Stoves.
30 Plate & Box Stoves from 1 to No. 9.

EMPIRE HOT AIR COOKING STOVE.

L. J. FARWELL,

Rogers Block, on East Water-Street,

NOW offers to the public this approved Cook Stove, of different sizes, to suit small families, or large Boarding Houses or Hotels. The high character which this Stove has obtained wherever it has been introduced, is a guaranty of its excellence. The complete success which has attended the introduction of hot air into the oven, and other improvements in the construction of the Empire Stove, justify him in warranting them to bake equally as well as a brick oven, and to perform all other operations in cooking with 50 per cent less fuel than any other cooking stove now in use.

An examination of the stove will ensure its sale, and a trial of it fully realize all reasonable expectations aug 14

SAND'S SARSAPARILLA.—The removal of suffering has been the object of the philanthropist in every age of the world, but true principles of treating disease progressed but slowly for many thousand years, owing to the limited means of acquiring knowledge;—but since the introduction of the printing press and steam engine it may literally be said,—"Light has dawned upon the world," and the man of the nineteenth century possesses advantages which his fathers never did. In this general diffusion of knowledge, remedies have been sought after and discovered in the beautiful storehouse of the vegetable creation exactly calculated to combine with neutralize and dissolve the subtle poison which diffuses itself throughout the general system and prostrates man in the dust. Sand's Sarsaparilla, a purely vegetable preparation, has been thoroughly tested in a variety of diseases, and is from experience, known to be a safe and effectual cure for Scrofula or Enlargement of the Glands, Leprosy, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Eczema, Rheumatism, Palpitation of the Heart and other diseases originating in an impure or depraved state of the blood or derangement of the digestive organs. Original manuscripts of various certificates, letters, of the clergy, Magistrates and laity, all confirming the previous statements, are constantly received, and will be cheerfully exhibited on application. Facts are recorded sufficiently clear and convincing to satisfy the most incredulous of the real merits of this invaluable medicine.

For further particulars and conclusive evidence of its superior value and efficacy, see pamphlets, which may be obtained of agents gratis. Prepared and sold, wholesale and retail, by A. B. Sands & Co., Druggists and Chemists, 273 Broadway. For sale also by

DEAFNESS CAN BE CURED.

From the Albany Argus

WONDERS WILL NEVER CEASE!!

Another remarkable cure of Deafness, performed by Scarpa's Acoustic Oil, in this city. Let the case speak for itself.

Albany, Feb 22d, 1844.

Mr. Guthrie, 4 Stanwix Hall, Maiden Lane: Dear Sir—I owe you an immense debt of gratitude for inducing me to try Scarpa's compound Acoustic Oil. I had been so very deaf for eight years this winter, that I could not hear conversation with an ear trumpet, without the voice being much raised. I have been using the Oil about six weeks in one ear that was far the worst, and with which I was almost totally deaf, and I am happy to inform you that I can now hear ordinary conversation without the trumpet. I feel that I would like to inform the whole deaf community of the astonishing effect of the above medicine. I shall be pleased to see any person who may desire to call upon me, to make inquiries concerning my case. Yours, &c.

PROLAPSUS UTERI.

THIS troublesome disease is cured by the use of Hull's Uterc Abdominal Supporter, from the many certificates in its favor we select only the following of Doctor Ashwell.—After its successful trial in Guy's hospital, the following certificate was handed to Dr. Hull's London Agent, for public use:—

13 Devonshire Square, London, Mar. 17, 1838.

"Having tried Dr. Hull's instrument for the cure of Prolapsus and Procidentia Uteri, I am glad to express a highly favorable opinion of its utility. In a severe case of entire Procidentia, lately under treatment at Guy's Hospital, it was applied with marked success. Its great superiority over the pessary consists in its affording efficient support to the weak ned abdominal integuments, and in its external application, instead of its introduction into the vagina. I quite think it will accomplish a permanent cure better and more quickly than the pessary. SAMUEL ASHWELL, M. D.

Obstetric Physician, and Lecturer to Guy's, London.

Sir Astley Cooper, after the apparatus had been several months under his inspection, gave the following opinion for publication:—

"This apparatus is beautiful for its simplicity; it is an acquisition to practice. The principle of its operation is quite original and perfect. I shall advise its use, and make use of it in my own practice, in preference to anything I have seen."

The above valuable instrument can be found at the Medical store of the undersigned, who is the agent for the sale of the same in Wisconsin. A. F. CLARKE,
